Summer Play Production Opens Tonight

U Artists Series Slates Named Organist Mon.

Internationally-known organist Richard Ellsasser will present a concert at 8 p.m. Monday in Lantz Gymnasium. The performance is sponsored by the Artists Series Board.

Ellsasser, 35, has been called the youngest person to have memorized and performed the complete organ works of Bach. Also a composer, he won the Levitt Award several years ago for his ballet score "Greenwich Village." He is heard in concert annually in Europe and the Americas and so has appeared in several Hollywood films. Sales of his recordings on three different labels have reached nearly four million.

Ellsasser attended Oberlin and Baldwin-Wallace College in Ohio, graduating from the latter. He did graduate work at several universities, including study in the field of theology.

Students will be admitted free. Individual tickets are available to the public at the University Union desk at $1.50.

Ellsasser will meet with interested persons for discussion of the program at about 3 p.m. Monday in Lantz Gymnasium.

The other Artists Series presentation of the summer, The Porgy and Bess Singers, is scheduled for July 31.

Eastern Survey Team Helps With Ind. Arts Jacksonville Schools

A list of 18 recommendations for its industrial education program has been submitted to the Jacksonville School District No. 7 by an Eastern survey team.

Russell H. Landis, professor of industrial arts, served as director of the survey. Others on the Eastern staff assisting him were Charles Elliott, Clifford Erwin and Walter H. Klehm.

The survey team recommended considerable expansion and improvement of the program be effected within a short period of time.

Student Senators Planning Parents' Day

The Student Senate is meeting this summer to plan for Parents' Day in the fall. President Bob Willis said 11 members are in summer school and they comprise a committee to plan the annual event.

Sullivan Trip Set Tuesday Evening

A trip to Sullivan to see a summer stock production of "The Tunnel of Love," starring Eddie Bracken, is planned for Tuesday, June 26, according to Walter Elmore, summer recreation director.

The trip, a part of the summer recreation program, will cost $1.60 per person. This includes a ticket to the play and transportation to and from Sullivan.

The group plans to leave from the east side of the Union about 7 p.m. and return about 11 p.m., said Elmore.

The trip is open to students, faculty members or staff members. Persons planning to take this trip should plan to register at the University Union desk as soon as possible.

Junior English Exam Scheduled For Tonight

The Junior English Examination will be given at 7:30 p.m. tonight on the second floor of Old Main.

Students taking the examination should bring test booklets, pens, a dictionary, and personal identification, preferably college identification cards, according to Eugene M. Waffle, head of the English department.

Waffle stated that a sentence outline is required for the paper.

Garcia Awarded Ph.D. By Univ. of Oregon

Daniel P. Garcia, assistant professor of English, has received his doctorate.

The University of Oregon in Eugene awarded Garcia his doctor of philosophy degree June 10.

Olney Junior College Survey Approved; Eastern To Help Establish Institution

A junior college for Olney came a step closer to reality last week when State School Superintendent George T. Wilkins approved a survey report for the proposed institution.

Approval of the report allows a referendum to be held in the proposed college district, which includes about two-thirds of Richland County.

Eastern is cooperating with the district on a contractual basis in planning and establishing the college, which would offer a two-year college level academic program.

Frank Bower, president of the East Richland school board, said a referendum would probably be held September 15.

Eastern would help in developing an instructional program for the college and would help in selecting its faculty, but operation of the college would be under control of the district board.

The plan is unique in that a state university would help a local school district establish a college and develop its program.

Mike Genovese, as Major Sergius Saranoff, and Sandi Hicks, as Louka, rehearse a scene for the summer theatre production "Arms and the Man," which begins at 8 p.m. today in the Fine Arts Theatre. In the background is Roger Perkins, who plays the part of Nicola.

Extra Food Services Offered For Summer

Three extra food services are being offered during the summer quarter, according to Ruth Gaertner, director of food services.

Breakfast will be served in the east line of the cafeteria in the University Union from 6:45-7:30 a.m., Monday through Friday. In the west line a "jet" breakfast and coffee hour will be served from 7:30-10:30 a.m., Monday through Friday and a "jet" lunch will be served from 11:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, Gaertner said.

Exhibit Of Banned Books Being Held

A book exhibit containing books which at one time have been banned, burned or censored, opened Friday in the reference room of Booth Library. The traveling exhibit will remain on campus until Thursday, June 28.

"Today, with censorship and banned materials being greatly discussed, it seems especially pertinent to be aware of what has happened to certain literary works in the past," said Lee Anna Smock,

Satire On War To Be Given

"Arms and the Man," the first summer production of Company '62, will open at 8 p.m. today in the Fine Arts Theatre.

A cast of eight persons will participate in the Bernard Shaw play which will be presented at 8 p.m. daily through Saturday, with a matinee performance scheduled for 2:15 p.m. tomorrow. This matinee is for the convenience of commuting students.

"Arms and the Man," is a satire on war and the professional fighting man. This is a new acting edition of one of Shaw's most distinguished plays. Ever since its first performance in 1894, and the controversy it aroused, it has had a prominent place in the repertory of the English-speaking stage.

Included in the cast are Sharon Boardman, senior speech major from Champaign, as Raina; Janice Bailey, senior speech major from Decatur, as Catherine Petkoff, Raina's mother; Sandra Hicks, senior mathematics major from Kankakee, as Louka; Bill Ozier, senior speech major from Greenup, as Captain Bluntschli; Phil Bush, senior speech major from Robinson, as a Russian officer; Roger Perkins, senior chemistry major from Beecher City, as Nicola, the man servant; Keith Jones, senior speech and social science major from Paris, as Major Paul Petkoff; and Mike Genovese, senior speech major from Granite City, as Major Sergius Saranoff.

The satire, presented in arena style, is under the direction of E. Glendon Gabbard, professor of speech. Edmund Roney, instructor of speech, is technical director. Student assistants are James Wilhelm and Gary Price.

Tickets are available in the University Union. Reserved seats are $1.00. Students may obtain a free ticket by presenting identification cards at the University Union or the box office of the Fine Arts Theatre.

Science Institute Schedules Lecturer

Frank Baxter, who was in charge of the nationally televised Continental Classroom in Chemistry, will be the first guest lecturer of the eight-week National Science Foundation Institute at Eastern.

Baxter will give a public lecture on behind the scenes of television teaching at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Room 216 of the Science Building.

He will be on campus from Monday through June 29, speaking on the teaching of chemistry.

A member of the faculty of the University of Florida, Baxter won the 1962 James T. Grady Award for outstanding promotion of the public's understanding of chemistry and chemical progress.

Editor-Elect Jon Woods Working As Reporter

Jon Woods, 1962-63 News editor, is working this summer as a reporter for the Mattoon Journal-Gazette. Woods is covering the City Hall Beat which includes the city council, the mayor's office, offices of city commissioners, park boards, city clerk, city planning commission, police station, fire department, police court, city court and school board. He also serves as a re-write man for the paper.

Editorials . . .

Teachers College Board . . .

Should Be Renamed

The Teachers College Board should be renamed. This should be done not only in line with name changes of all institutions under the board's control, but more importantly with administrative and curricular changes.

Eastern's name was changed from Teachers College to State College in 1947—15 years ago. This name change and the subsequent change to University meant more than a mere change in name. The changes were symbolic of a gradual transition from a limited normal school curriculum to the broad liberal arts and pre-professional curriculum offered today.

Although university status might be questioned in the case of some, all of the four institutions under the management of the Teachers College Board are certainly more than teachers colleges.

All the universities offer degrees other than in teaching. The B.S. and B.A. degrees (without teacher training) have been offered at Eastern since 1954.

The change should be made also to indicate in definitive terms to the people of the state the changes which have taken place at these institutions in the last 40 years and which will continue to take place.

At the time Eastern's name was changed to University in 1957 there was speculation that abolishment of state colleges would result in the renaming of the Teachers College Board by the Illinois General Assembly and the governor. We believe this should be done at next year's General Assembly session.

Bond Issue Should be Ok'd

We urge the adoption of a $250,000 bond issue, which if approved will pay for part of the cost of a new, modern water treatment and filtration plant for Charleston. Residents of the city will vote on the bond issue Tuesday, June 26.

The present bad condition of the water plant is shown in a letter to the city council last week from the Illinois Department of Public Health which says that Charleston "has been fortunate in not having a major disaster by the collapse of the walls of the pumping station." This would make it impossible for the plant to pump water to the city, according to C. W. Klassen, chief sanitary engineer for the state.

A modern, reliable water plant is vital, not only to the city of Charleston, but to Eastern Illinois University as well. We urge adoption of the bond issue June 26.

Tempus Fugit! In just two short weeks of school, some of us "students" have managed to get two weeks behind. In some circles this constitutes a record.

Speaking of school and students, two expressions have come to our attention recently. One is an oldy—"to be shot down." This particular expression refers usually to a condition of mental remorsefulness brought on by a difficult course, a strenuous test, or a generally bad day.

The companion expression is "gunner." Now, to properly understand what is meant by a "gunner", one must be "shot down."

Usually there are two distinct varieties of "gunners." The first is a student type. In this case, a gunner is a student, bright, alert and diligent, who shows by making a 98 on the first quiz of the quarter, that he intends to capture the only "A" to be given in the course. Hence by raising the curve he evidently shoots down his classmates. No one need tell this student to "raise his sights" or "to aim for knowledge in college."

The second type is the professional gunner. These astute individuals through long years of careful practice have developed "marksmanship" almost beyond credible mention (or polite mention for that matter.) Possibly, just possibly, some of the adeptness with which certain professors "shoot down" their students might stem from the fact that, in the professors' childhood, the ABC's were learned beginning with the letter "C."

Just in the way of reminders—there are two entertainment highlights to grace the campus scene in the near future (Details may be found elsewhere in this issue of the paper.)

Firstly, there is the first number of the summer artists series—Richard Ellsasser, organist. The best word available to me indicates that the concert should be a most entertaining and enjoyable one.

Secondly, the Company '62 production of George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" begins this week. I believe there are to be something like eight performances and surely this makes the play accessible to most students—timewise, anyway.

Some Students Not Admitted To T.E. Should Contact Zeigel

Persons now in school who have not been admitted to teacher education and wish to take advanced courses in education next year who were admitted under the requirements in force in the fall of 1958 and do not complete their degree this summer should see William H. Zeigel, dean of student academic services, according to Zeigel.

The requirements for admission to teacher education do not affect the student's program of degree requirements, said Zeigel.

Students entering Eastern since 1958 who wish to obtain a B.S. in Ed. degree have had to secure admission to teacher education prior to carrying departmental methods and education courses numbering 300 or above. Basic requirements for admission consist of an over-all grade point average of 2.10 or better, acceptance by the student's major department, clearance on health, speech and hearing, lish proficiency and a favorable recommendation by the de students.

In an effort to further in the caliber of students mended for certification teaching the Council on Te Education has recently vot adopt two additional re ments, Zeigel said. Students grade-point-average falls v level which places them on tion are to be notified at th ginning of the next quarter unless they are in good sta by the close of that quarter admission to teacher edu will be revoked.

It has also been agreed tha dents who are excluded, sus ed for more than one full ter, or put on disciplinary tion for more than one full ter will automatically lose status of admission to teach ucation, Zeigel stated.

300 Students Attend First Band Camp

With the close of Chorus Camp, Eastern's first Band Camp of the summer opened Sunday with approximately 300 high school band students participating.

The Band Campers, representing nearly 80 communities throughout Illinois, are staying in Lincoln and Douglas Halls during the week-long camp. Their meals are served "family style" in the dining room of the dormitories.

Organized musical activities began for the campers at 8:30 a.m., and conclude at 3:30 p.m. From that time until dinner time, the campers may utilize campus facilities for recreational activities.

After the evening meal, a planned program of entertainment is provided for the campers. Monday's program was a special presentation of the Summer Theatre's "Arms and the Man" by Bernard Shaw. The play will open to the public tonight.

Concluding the Band Camp will be a concert to be given at 3 p.m. Sunday in the recently constructed Camp Theatre located east of the Union.

Herbert Lee, band director of Ridgewood High School in Peoria, is the guest conductor. Lee was graduated from Eastern in 1948 and will represent the first Eastern alumnus to serve as guest conductor at an Eastern Music Camp.

Some of the songs to be played at the concert are: "Greensleeves", Hansen; "Joe College", Mills; "New Horizon Concert March", Lorraine White, a participant in the Art Workshop which ends Friday, studies her sketch of a hunting scene for use in the making of a table-top design in tile mosaic. Holding the sketch is James Roy of the art department, who is in charge of the workshop. Shown in the hunting scene is a hunter, pointer and pheasant.

Instructional Materials Workshop Scheduled

An Instructional Materials Workshop will be held at Eastern from Monday through July 13.

Verne Stockman, associate professor of education, will teach a course on the preparation and use of instructional materials. About 12-15 public school teachers are expected to attend the workshop.

Rubank; and "Serenade for Band" by Elkan-Vogel.

The third and final music camp of the summer, another Band Camp, will begin Sunday and conclude July 1.

Waterworks Vote Set For Tuesday

Residents of Charleston will vote Tuesday on a $250,000 general obligation bond issue to pay part of the cost of constructing a new water plant for the city.

If the bond issue is approved, the remainder of the $570,000 needed to construct and equip a waterworks will come from the sale of $320,000 in revenue bonds.

The general obligation bonds would increase the tax rate by .0009 of assessed valuation. The minimum combined water and sewer rate would be increased by approximately 44 cents per month to finance the revenue bonds.

In a letter to the city council last week, the Department of Health said Charleston "has been fortunate in not having a major disaster by the collapse of the walls of the pumping station."

Collapse of the walls, according to C. W. Klassen, chief sanitary engineer for the state, would make it impossible for the plant to pump water to the city.

"Since 1946, we have brought to the attention of the city the existence of sanitary defects along with the structural condition of the pumping station and nothing of any consequence has been done to correct these very hazardous conditions," said Klassen.

Residents will vote from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday in six city precincts.

New Mathematics Requirements Reprinted For New Students

(Editor's Note — The following information on new mathematics requirements is being repeated for summer school students.)

A statement was released recently by President Quincy Doudna pertaining to a change in mathematics requirements and several other curriculum and administrative matters. The memorandum is available in the office of Regional Services.

Modifications have been made in the previous mathematics requirements.

Those students who entered in the fall of 1961 or 1962 may not use their eight quarter hours of "free exemptions" in mathematics, Doudna said. He said previous exemptions for individual students based upon two acceptable units of college preparatory mathematics are cancelled

Students who took any advanced courses in mathematics (more than two years of college preparatory mathematics) in high school are exempt from the four-credit mathematics requirement until further notice, Doudna said. To get the exemption, the student must claim in writing to the associate dean of student academic services. Forms are available in that office.

Doudna said some students will be exempt from the requirements on the basis of scores already taken. Exemptions will be decided by the mathematics department.

Candidates for the B.S. in Ed. degree who entered before September, 1961 must meet the four-credit requirement unless they graduate before July 1, 1963, Doudna said. The president said this results from the insistence of the State Teacher Certification Board that the new requirement be retroactive to that extent.

Candidates will be exempt only if they have had more than two years of advanced mathematics in high school or if their entrance examination scores are high enough, Doudna said.

He said transfer students entering after September, 1961, are under the new requirements. Those entering before that date are under old requirements, except those pertaining to the four-credit mathematics course. The same exemptions as given above apply.

Entry Deadline Noted For Intramural Sports

All persons interested in participating in intramural athletics are reminded by Recreation Director Walter Elmore to sign up before 5 p.m. Friday on the intramural bulletin board located in the basement of Lantz Gymnasium.

A minimum number of eight participants are needed in each activity before a tournament in that activity can be conducted.

Elmore said that the required number have signed up for tennis, horseshoes, badminton, table tennis, bridge and golf, but participants are still needed for chess and archery.

Play in the various activities will start Tuesday and schedules will be posted on the intramural bulletin board Monday. Elmore said that four softball teams have been entered and at least two or three more are needed to make a balanced league.

All participants are required to contact their opponent to schedule an appointment for each game or match. Failure to do this will result in forfeiture of the event.

Anfinson Asks Students To Ban Levis In Union

Rudolph D. Anfinson, dean of student personnel services, has requested students not to wear levis in the University Union.

"In a number of cases chairs have been scratched due to the copper rivets on levis," Anfinson said. He also requested that shorts not be worn in the Union Cafeteria on Sundays.

In the classroom skirts, sweaters and dresses (school clothes) are recommended for women. Informal dress for men and women may be worn for field trips and at other times when approved by the instructor.

Slacks, sport or dress shirt or sweater are recommended for men.

In dining facilities women should wear school clothes for meals except for breakfast, Friday evenings and Saturdays when informal attire may be worn. Men may wear classroom dress for meals except Friday evenings and Saturdays when casual dress may be worn.

Casual dress is permitted during registration and examination periods, but students are expected not to wear casual dress on Commencement and Parents' Day.

Float Periods Told For Summer Term

A revised summer quarter float period schedule has been released by Hobart F. Heller, vice president for instruction.

Under the plan, float hours will be observed as follows:

Week of June 18—Tuesday and Thursday float hours will be observed.

Week of June 25—Monday and Wednesday float hours will be observed.

Week of July 2—No float hours.

Week of July 9—All float hours will be observed.

Week of July 16—Tuesday and Thursday float hours will be observed.

Week of July 23—Monday and Wednesday float hours will be observed.

Week of July 30—All float hours will be observed.

Week of August 6—No float hours will be observed. (On Wednesday, August 8, classes close at 12:30 p.m.)

Float hours are as follows: Monday, 11:30, 12:30; Tuesday, 1:30, 2:30; Wednesday, 7:30, 8:30; Thursday, 9:30, 10:30; and there are no float hours on Friday.

Final examinations will begin Wednesday afternoon, August 8.
